Do You Think

For Yourself?

On do you open your mouth like a young bird and spit out whatever food or medicine may be offered you?

Is there an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true, honest medicine, of known composition, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula of the ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famous medicine is advised.

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration?

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authoritative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FIGHT WITH SUFFRAGETTES.

The militant suffragettes made their expected attack on the British Parliament yesterday evening. The deputation was headed by Mrs. Pankhurst and six other prominent suffragettes. A crowd of 100,000 people surrounded the Parliament House and the women were given a most royal reception, although the crowds have hitherto been hostile to the movement.

The police finally arrested the delegates. In order to do so, however, they were compelled to fight their way through thousands of would-be rescuers. The mounted police finally charged the crowd and wild scenes ensued. The police were driven back by the mob and were compelled to close the palace gates to prevent a concerted attack on Parliament.

The police used their clubs and many dog whips, with which they had been armed in expectation of the attack. The women in the crowd used their hats on the police, and their male sympathizers used stones. The attack was one of the most sensational and bitter in the history of the entire suffragette movement.

A few male sympathizers of the women penetrated into the Parliament House, but were promptly ejected. The police were re-entranced and cleared a space of 300 yards from the gates of the house. The demonstration developed into a disorderly riot, rowdies from London taking a hand in the fray.

The police clubbed and kicked indiscriminately and many women have been bruised.

PURCHASED HOMESTEAD.

Archbishop Farley, of New York, has definitely settled upon the purchase of the homestead of Pope Pius IX. at Seggalla Italy. It will be transformed into a shrine, in which relics of that pontiff will be placed.

Archbishop Farley, in a recent conversation with the pope, said that a New York priest had contributed $500 to the project, the priest recalling that when a child his father said to him: "Pius IX is a saint."

The pontiff was greatly touched at this incident, and asked the archbishop when he had seen Pope Pius IX. The archbishop replied that he had seen his holiness when the pontiff visited the American college, where Mgr. Farley was a student, during a vacation; then shortly before the fall of the temporal power, when Pius IX suddenly appeared in the villa Borghese, where the American students were playing baseball, the Pope taking great interest in the game and finally, on the eve of his departure for America after he had been ordained a priest, when he was presented by Bishop Chastat, the rector of the American college, to the pontiff, who gave him a silver medal, which he still religiously preserves.

Pius X. thanked Archbishop Farley warmly for his generous interest, and asked him to extend the thanks of his holiness to those who had contributed to the plan.

TO BUILD ROAD TO WASHINGTON.

As soon as practicable after securing a new charter and a franchise for the work, the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, or Virginia Railway and Power Company, as it will be styled in the new charter, proposes to effect a complete physical reorganization of its lines in Richmond which is expected to meet every requirement of the city's expansion and shifting centers of population.

Another work of first importance which, if found practicable, will be started in the fall will be the extension of the Richmond and Chesapeake Bay Railroad to Washington. This extension has been proposed from the start, but for several reasons no work has been done on it beyond Ashland. It is now proposed, if the proper right of way can be gotten, to start work on the extension, both at Fredericksburg and Ashland, to extend the line to Washington. A force will be put to work at Ashland to work toward Fredericksburg and another at Fredericksburg to work toward Washington.

City Treasurer's Office, Alexandria, Va., May 31, 1909.

THOS. W. ROBINSON, City Treasurer.

To the Honorable City Council of Alexandria, Va.:

Gentlemen: I respectfully submit this my third annual report for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1909, showing the number of new mains and new services laid, services renewed, and repairs and improvements at the Gas Works.

68 new services laid, average cost $8.94 each.

19 services renewed, average cost $6.36 each.

240 feet 4-in. main on Oronoco street from Washington to Columbus street, $115.

240 feet 4-in. main on King street from Old Virginia House to Corporation line, $244.

(This line supplies the mains at Rosemont, and has a gate valve at Virginia House.)

194 feet 4-in. main on Princess street from West to Peyton street, 324 feet 4-in. main on Peyton street from Princess street, total of 518 feet, $64.

480 feet 4-in. main on north Washington street from Wythe to Madison and beyond, $289.

2,555 feet 6-in. main and 2,124 feet 4-in. main with 4 services laid at Rosemont.

This work cost less than the estimate made by the Committee on Light which was $3,000.

In locating necessary during the past year to purchase one new exchanger and two boilers and to rebuild one boiler. The boiler and exchanger were the same that were used for the Oil Works that were used twenty years ago and were beyond repair. All of this was charged to repair account, which will account for the increase in our repair account, and this together with the increase in other expenditures will account for the decrease in net earnings.

Ammonia well, tax reparatur, circulating pump were installed in accordance with agreement between city and Mr. C. C. Bayly. In conclusion will state that a visit to the plant will convince the members of this body that the money spent by the Committee on the Gas plant was for the betterment of the plant.

Respectfully submitted, F. W. LATHAM, Superintendent of Gas.
